Montevideo, 26th.

The special South American representative of the London Times is on his way to the Plate. Local English editors may begin to sharpen their knives to carve him.

Casteran & Co., large joiners, after having put their men on half time, have now ceased working altogether. This throws many persons out of employment.

Dankelmand and Schroder, the most important manufacturers here of tobacco and cigarettes, have begun to run only half time. They formerly supplied the country trade.

I am informed that Lamas is furious with the Blancos because many of them who promised large sums of money have failed to pay up. He was promised that within a month of his landing here he should be at the head of fifteen or sixteen thousand men, fully armed and equipped, whereas I doubt whether he has five thousand men with him and he is constantly annoyed by lack of ammunition. There is decidedly a screw loose somewhere in the Blanco arrangements.

An official bulletin has just been issued; as it is simply a confirmation of the bulletin which I sent you last night I forbear wiring it. The Senate has approved the President's message promoting one grade, Lieutenant Colonel Turenne, who reized Ravecca, the would-be assassin of Borda.

There has been quite a scandal in the school preparatory for the University. When the professor, on calling the roll, reached the name of Ravecca, the students cheered. An investigation has been ordered—a spanking would be more appropriate.

The Artigas had a rough passrge over Lieutenant Tajes will remain on board her, pending the investigation of her capture.

General Vasquez has reached Nico Perez and joined the army of Muñiz and Muñoz. He has proposed a general promotion of all the officers under his command. This should enable them to begin the campaign in the best of humour.

The directors of the Bank of the Republic has ordered all its provincial branches to send their cash to the central office and to reduce salaries ot employés by fifty per cent.

The Chilian Minister to Germany, Sr. Subercasseaux, arrived yesterday and left for Europe the same day.

President offered Dr. Nin to be Minister in London. The portfolio of foreign affairs Dr. Nin deolined. He preters to live in Europe. I saw him yesterday at the football match, chatting English with his children. Government has decided to arm the the steamer Francisco Vidiella.

Jesus Vera and fifty rebels have presented themselves at the camp of General Vasquez and asked leave to join Government army.

A horrible murder by bandits is reported from Artigas. The victim kept a 'pulperia,' which was sacked.

Large numbers of fine cattle are being sent to the Capital over the Nico Perez railway, with the object of saving them from contending armies.

Owners of stock are not keen about receiving payment in orders on the revolutionary committee.

The retaking of Artigas by legal troops has greatly discouraged the Blancos.

THE WAR.

No fresh News.

Rumoured Resignation of King George.

Mountain Artillery and Reinforcements for South Africa.

London, 25th—Princess Victoria Mary, Duchess of York, gave birth to-day to a girl. Mother and child are going on very well.

Janina, 26th—Turkish troops yesterday afternoon took possession of Pigadia, after a most desperate fight. This town had been occupied by Greek troops the previous day. The Greek troops fell back towards the South, and the Turkish General has sent a detachment of troops in pursuit.

Athens, 26th—The rumour circulated yesterday announcing a battle between Turkish and Greek troops near Larissa is denied. It is asserted in the War Office that the evacuation of Larissa was decided on after a council held between Prince Constantine and his chief officers, and that the evacuation is in consonance with a new strategic plan in which Prince Constantine has great confidence.

Constantinople, 26th—General Edhem Pasha has telegraphically advised that he has sent the Greek prisoners of war taken at Larissa to the Turkish army headquarters at Elassona. He adds that he has greatly strengthened his artillery with the Greek guns, ammunition, etc., abandoned at Turnavo by the enemy.

Madrid, 26th—General Primo de Rivera has telegraphed from Manila that, in spite of the recent victories over the rebels, and the surrender of so many of them, their number still in arms against the authorities is not less than 25,000.

Canea, 26th—Telegrams from Candia say that the situation there is still very serious. The insurgents are gradually concentrating round it, and are now almost at the gates of the city; they have cut the pipes that supply the city with water, which will put the inhabitants in serious straits. Troops and Marines from the combined fleets were hastily landed this afternoon, to repel any attack by the rebels.

Volo, 26th—The eastern Greek fleet has concentrated in this Gulf, but it is not known why. None of the ships have suffered in the least during the bombardment of the ports on the Macedonian coast.

Milan, 26th—La Sera a reliable paper published in this city, publishes a rumour from Athens that King George has decided to resign in favour of his heir, Prince Constantine, without further delay.

Salonica, 26th—Several French and Italian cruisers left Canea and the Piræus today for this port to protect the citizens of their respective nations, if necessary.

London, 26th—The House of Commons resumed its sittings to-day, and its leader, Mr. Arthur Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, in reply to a question as to the Turko-Grecian War, said that the Great Powers sincerely wished to see it ended. He added that they would probably soon offer their friendly mediation, and had hopes that both Greece and Turkey would accept it.

Paris, 26th—The general Councils in all the departments of France are now in session. Most of them are dealing with purely local matters; but some of them have voted to-day motions in favour of Greece, to the effect that they would gladly see the French Government interfere in favour of that heroic nation.

Vienna, 26th—Telegrams from Elassona announce that 25,000 Turkish troops as reinforcements are expected there at any moment from Adrianapolis and other towns in the east of European Turkey, with the view that these troops may give a greater impulse to the war operations against the main body of troops in Thessaly. The favourable news as to the campaign against Greece provokes great enthusiasm in Constantinople.

London, 26th—The city newspapers confirm the news that the British Government will send important reinforcements to her colonies in South Africa to place them on a footing to meet any emergency. It is now known with certainty that three complete batteries of mountain artillery will leave for Africa early next month.

Pretoria, 26th—Lieutenant Eloff, an officer in the Transvaal army, brought to trial for using offensive language against Her Majesty Queen Victoria, has been acquitted. A crowd of people waiting outside the court cheered him repeatedly.

Paris, 26th—It is asserted that the Sublime Porte will, in spite of the efforts being made by the Great Powers to prevent it, issue a decree to-night or to-morrow at latest, expelling all the Greek residents in the empire.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

(Received after Midnight.)

Athens, 26th.—It is known positively that the Turkish troops on occupying Larissa found there 10 cannon of heavy calibre which the Greeks had only had time to spike before leaving. No fresh news has been received from Thessaly.

London, 26th—The Times says that the reason why President Krüger has recently assumed such a bellicose attitude towards England is because both France and Germany had given him proofs of their sympathy with the Transvaal.

London, 26th—An explosion of gas occurred to-day on the underground railway near Gloucester Road station, by which 10 persons were seriously injured and many others received bad bruises.

Rome, 26th—General Ricciotti Garibaldi telegraphs that he sent to-day 240 Italian volunteers to Epirus, adding that he is organzing another strong band, which he is going to lead in person against the Turks in that Province.

Athens, 26th—King George expressed this morning to the Prime Minister, M. Delyannis, his readiness to approve all the measures proposed for carrying on the war with Turkey. The Cabinet has been sitting since mid-day, and are engaged in considering what changes should be made in the Headquarter, staff of the army. It is feared that the recent reverses may lead to disturbances throughout the country.

SAILORS' HOME.

The loud and hearty applause which greeted Consul Bridgett's suggestion, at Wednesday's meeting of British Residents, that a Sailors' Home should be erected as a fitting memorial of the Queen's Jubilee reign, has been re-echoed on all sides. The inspiriting idea has struck a deep-sounding chord in the hearts of Britishers in this remote corner of the world. Indeed, it could hardly have been otherwise. British supremacy on the seas is so intimately bound up with our conceptions of British grandeur, British success, British enterprise, that the ocean and the intrepid "tar" exercise over us a peculiar fascination, a charm of the "je-ne-sais-quoi" nature, a spell under whose thrilling influence our bards have sung in strains of unparalleled melody, and our forefathers fought with unsurpassed courage. For the Britisher there is magic in the ocean, and he will always feel for the toiler of the sea a sympathy that colors his thoughts, quickens his legislation and finds expression in enduring monuments for the guidance of benighted, the shelter of disabled, and the comfort of decayed seamen. Every noble emotion seems to enter into the composition of Great Britain's affection for sailors—an affection in which there is even a dash of splendid altruism, for Greenwich is open to all nationalities.

This leaning towards the sea and its hardy toilers is a very prominent feature in the development of Great Britain. The tone of our literature, the direction of our scientific progress, the evolution of national character—everything appears to have caught something of this ocean enthusiasm. The poet who addressed the realms of Neptune in that glorious apostrophe beginning and who, with the divine afflatus, breathed the true spirit of British independence into two lines

O'er the glad waters of the deep blue sea
Our thoughts as boundless, and our souls as free;

—that poet was at once raised by popular acclamation to the pinnacle of fame, and on his brow, over which 30 years had not yet passed, a proud nation placed the bays of immortality.

Had we time and space, we could trace this ocean-enthusiasm in every phase of British national thought. We have, however, said enough to explain, without diving into the depths of physiology, the general outburst of enthusiasm with which the idea of erecting a suitable Sailors' Home has been received by the community. We say suitable, because we already have a Sailors' Home, but it is, as the Consul very forcibly said in his speech, a "shanty" that the flames may at any moment devour. And yet miserable as this "shanty" is and unworthy of its object, it does a great deal of good, as will be seen by the following extract from the Manager's last report:—

"740 men have been boarded in the home, compared with 746 the previous year; 374 have paid for the beds only.

"The receipts amount to $9229.73, as against $11,460.46 in 1894—5. The working expenses are $12.037.83, this being $148.76 less than last year. As more captains come to the Home in search of men than formerly and as a number of men have joined the Argentine Navy during the year, the average stay of men has been less than formerly, and this accounts for the falling off in the receipts.

"The sum of £1.103 was deposited with me for safekeeping, and drafts to the amount of £674 were sent home to seamen's friends; a large part of the latter was sent by men employed on steamers trading to the Brazils, and was entrusted to Mr. Hans Andersen, who has done the ship visiting during the absence of Rev. W. C. Morris.

"246 free beds were supplied and 168 free meals.

"164 letters were addressed to the Home for seamen, and 490 letters were written and posted here by seamen, paper and envelopes being supplied gratis.

"946 parcels of literature were distributed."

The active committee of the present Sailors' Home have obtained from the Government a valuable grant of land on the Madero Port—a circumstance that must not be overlooked, for the donation comes opportunely to strengthen the suggestion respecting the erection of an edifice commensurate not only with the grandeur of the idea which we wish to perpetuate in the memory of men, but also with the growing requirements involved by the rapid development of shipping interests in this part of the world. Few persons take the trouble of pondering on the wonderful growth of commerce and therefore of shipping here. The entries of ocean-going vessels—at least 60% of which are British—have jumped from 150 per month in 1892 to 300 last month. Jubilee or no jubilee, these figures proclaim the necessity of a proper Home for the sailors who visit our shores. The occasion of the world-wide celebration of Her Majesty's jubilee reign affords an inviting opportunity to combine a benevolent with a national work. The success of Prince George's Hall has taught us to appreciate what the community can do, when an appeal is made to their loyal feelings.

THE WAR IN EUROPE.

Last night's telegrams confirm the defeat of the Greeks along the whole length of their first line, consisting of a series of strongholds running from Larissa to Trikala. The victory of the Turks is all the more brilliant, as they had to storm positions held in mountain fastnesses where a handful of men could keep at bay a regiment. Driven from the high, fortified places in the Cachias range, the Greeks fell back from Damasi, Mati, Reveni and Milonas on Turnovo and Trikala and Larissa. These three places they defended stubbornly for a few days, but before the numerical superiority of the Turks, Prince Constantine had to break up his line and retreat to another base on the banks of the Satalge, at the gates of Pharsalus, which has a line of railway to Volo. It remains to be seen if the Greeks will be more fortunate on this new line, which has not the enormous topographical advantage of the first one. However, troops and supplies have been pouring in from Volo, and in all probability Prince Constantine will have a larger army at his back than at Larissa.

When one considers the extraordinary advantages of the Greek positions in the frontier mountain ranges that divide Macedonia and Thessaly, the disappointment and despair in Athens over the rapid succession of reverses may be well imagined. The superiority of Edhem Pasha as a tactician over Prince Constantine can no longer be a question of doubt, although, according to the cables, the victories cost a terrible sacrifice of life in the Turkish army. When the Greeks were not able to hold out at Reveni, Milonas and Damasi, we doubt much if they will fare better in the plain or behind the Satalge. They have a far better line of defence further South along the Othrys mountain range, but this would hand Thessaly over to the Turkish Commander, with its two lines of railway, numerous strongholds, and Volo into the bargain. Events, however, point that way. From Larissa to Pharsalus there are but thirty miles—from Pharsalus to the Othrys ranges forty miles—small distances.

The telegraph has been lying outrageously about the Greek advance in Janina. We were led to suppose that the Greek Colonel Menos was at the gates of the city of that name, yet last night's messages show that he has not advanced much beyond the hamlet Philippiada, situated on the river Luro. At this slow rate of advance the gallant Greek will not get near the city of Janina for another fortnight, and then he will find a Turkish corps d'armée ready to receive him. The fall of Prevesa, the command of the Gulf of Arta, the bombarding of the coast towns, are all insignificant events for the Grecian cause as long as the advance of Edhem Pacha cannot be checked on the Thessalian plain. In the Gulf of Salonica the Greek fleet is still engaged between Platamona and Katrina, evidently with the purpose of landing large forces to cut off communications of Edhem Pasha. It is interesting to note that part of the Greek fleet is near the Hellespont, having bombarded Dede Agatch, in close proximity to the Gulf of Saros.

THE MAGDALENA'S MAILS.

London, April, 3rd.

A Royal Proclamation appears in last night's Gazette appointing Tuesday, the 22nd day of June next, as a special day to be observed as Bank Holiday throughout the United Kingdom. "We do," the proclamation concludes, "command the said day to be so observed, and all our loving subjects to order themselves accordingly." Another notice in the Gazette sets forth that the Archbishop of Canterbury has been directed to prepare a special form of prayer and thanksgiving for the protection afforded to the Queen's Majesty during sixty years of her auspicious reign, this to be used in all the churches and chapels of England and Wales on Sunday, the 20th June next.

Yesterday's proceedings of the South Africa Committee were of a very stormy character. The witnesses called were Colonel Rhodes and Sir John Willoughby, and the interest of the former's evidence was in the light that it threw on the mutual recriminations between the "Jamesonians" and the "Johannesburgers" in regard to the circumstances of the raid. Sir John Willoughby, questioned by Mr. Labouchere, declined to say whether he told his officers before starting on the raid that the Imperial authorities were aware or approved of his action. He "re-assured them," he said. Sir John also declined to produce a communication he had made to the War Office. Mr. Labouchere thereupon declared that if they were not to get this document the Committee was "a farce and a humbug." The chairman allayed the feeling that arose by suggesting that the matter should stand over for the present.

The House of Lords on Tuesday gave a second reading to the Voluntary Schools Bill by 109 to 15 votes, after speeches by the Duke of Devonshire, the Archbishop of Canterbury, and the Duke of Argyll in its favour, and by Earl Spencer, Lord Herschell, and Lord Kimberley in opposition. The Bill had been read a third time in the House of Commons on the previous Thursday by 331 to 131. In that House on Friday there were discussions in Supply on the care of feeble-minded children, the recent dynamite conspiracy trial, and the Eastern question. On Monday Mr. Blake moved a resolution calling for legislation in accordance with the report of the Irish Financial Relations Commission. After a three days' debate this was negatived by 317 to 157.

Mr. Chamberlain spoke on South African affairs on Saturday at a farewell dinner to the New High Commissioner, and again on Wednesday at the Colonial Institute dinner on our Imperial policy. The other public speakers of the week have included Lord James and Lord Kimberley on the Eastern crisis, Sir R. Webster on international law, Lord George Hamilton at the Civil Engineers' dinner, and Mr. Goschen at the annual meeting of the Lifeboat institution.

The Mansion House Famine Fund amounted on Wednesday night to £469,000. —Mr. D. Naoroji has given evidence before the Indian Expenditure Commission.

Parliamentary inquiries are being held on several railway schemes, two being for underground electric lines in London, one for a new through route to Ireland, and the last for the Highland line, to which the Duke of Argyll strongly objects. The committees on Company law and the Merchandise Marks Act have also been taking evidence.

The Consistory Court of London has granted the original manuscript log of the Mayflower, which has long lain in the Bishop of London's library, to the United States.—In the Court of Queen's Bench Mr. Jerome K. Jerome and the other authorities of To-day are being sued by Mr. Samson Fox, the engineer and inventor, for libel.—Several large sums have been awarded in the Admiralty Division for salvage, services rendered to the steamer Langton Grange being valued £8,000.—Catherine Kempshall, sentenced to death for shooting a Liverpool merchant, has been respited.

The Galway Grand Jury has been protesting against the judicial reductions of rent. On the other hand, the tenants have been protesting against the reductions just made at Strabane, as quite insufficient.

The engineers on the north-east coast have gone back to work; but the North-Eastern Railway conference has failed, and a renewal of the strike is threatened in that department.

Two new plays have been introduced to London this week, The Physician by Mr. H. A. Jones, and The Princess and the Butterfly, by Mr. Pinero.

Obituary list this week includes the names of Jane, Duchess of Marlborough, Lady Bowen, Mr. F. W. Crossley, the Manchester philanthropist, the Rev. Dr. Simpson, librarian of St. Paul's, General Sir William Parke, Mr. William Hickman surgeon to the Duke of Saxe Coburg, Archdeacon Yeoman of Cleveland, Col. J. T. Chandler, Major G. N. Stevenson, and a grand niece of the great Duke of Wellington.

MR. AND MRS. PAKENHAM IN STOCKHOLM.

THE PRESENT FROM BUENOS AYRES.

A letter under date Stockholm, March 30th from Mrs. Pakenham to a lady friend says:—

"Your summer is nearly over now, and you will be enjoying the lovely autumn weather that we used to think the pleasantest of the year, and we are also looking forward to spring and summer here, hoping that many of our friends will be able to visit us. We have been so shocked to read in the telegrams of the terrible death of poor Mr Wanklyn. They were of the last who kindly received us at dinner at the Café de Paris, and Mrs. Wanklyn was an exceedingly kind friend, and like many others sympathised much with us in our little undertakings. I can hardly make up my mind to write to her; it seems as if there might be some mistake, and that it is possibly someone else of the same name. At any rate, I will wait until the news is confirmed by letter; but both my husband and I are so shocked that we hope it may not be true. I think it will interest you and many other of our friends to know that we took the occasion of St. Patrick's Day this year to exhibit for the first time the lovely present from our friends in B. Ayres. The Crown Prince of Sweden honoured us with his presence at dinner on that day, and we sat down 24 with the beautiful silver dish in the centre with two white azaleas in full bloom in it, the 4 others had plants of white primulas and the effect was beautiful. H.R.H. at once asked what they were, and admiring them very much examined them closely, with the inscription, and congratulated us. They certainly are both handsome and decorative, and I hope you and others will be present when they again adorn our table. For the occasion we had branches of shamrocks from Ireland for all the guests, mixed with snowdrops, and having a little dance afterwards, one of the presents of the cotillon was a brooch or a scarf-pin of a green enamelled shamrock for each lady or gentleman, so I don't think you could have done better in Buenos Aires. I am sure your husband will be pleased to hear of our loyalty to old Ireland. Mr. Welby has just left us, having been transferred to Brussels. We are exceedingly sorry to lose him, but we have another old friend in Mr. Herbert, who comes this time as first secretary and a married man, his wife being one of the most charming ladies in our diplomatic service, I am told. M. and Madame Rouvier are also here, and we often talk about Buenos Aires together, and recall the flowers and the bright sun and our mutual friends there. What singular rumours do get about with regard to Buenos Aires! They say that the Argentine Government has issued a decree whereby ladies are not to ride bicycles in public. Also, more comic still, that every young lady who refuses an offer of marriage has to pay a heavy fine; and a still heavier one is paid by every bachelor over the age of 30 years. Rumour does not say if this has to be paid annually, but no doubt it is so, to make it a complete success. You will be amused at the reports that reach us, as if from a country in the centre of the Gran Chaco, and I am always asked if they are true, and reply: "None of my correspondents have as yet mentioned it, so perhaps there may be some misapprehension." Here we are to have an exhibition in June, and a Jubilee festivity in September."

THE BRITISH AND AMERICAN BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

REPORT 1896

The Committee of the British and American Benevolent Society have to record another year's work in the cause of charity. The various statistics cited, both here and in the Treasurer's statement, give in a concise form the nature and extent of the work undertaken during the past year, and may serve to show how many and urgent are the needs that come under the Committee's notice. The Society does its work quietly, but, we hope, to the extent that funds permit, effectively. It has nothing, like other charitable associations, by which to bring itself prominently under the public notice; but when it is found that the Committee meets, as a rule, once a fortnight, and has granted during the year some form of relief to no fewer than 948 cases, as compared with 835 in 1895, not including pensions, etc., it may safely be inferred that the Society is not the least important of other similar institutions in the city.

It is this comparative obscurity that, perhaps, accounts to an extent for the lamentable state of the Society's funds which the Committee regrets to announce. It will be seen that the subscriptions and income from entertainments for 1896 amount to $3,582.28 as compared with $7,023 in 1895 and $8,751 in 1894; but this, though showing an increase upon the previous year, is by no means sufficient for the needs of the case, nor, we would hope, truly indicative of the public willingness to help in so deserving a cause.

The subscrition list of the Society has been very little added to by benefits. There have been in all five entertainments of one kind or another which have brought in altogether $1,913.65, a sum which ought to be exceeded by the proceeds of one good entertainment alone, and it is earnestly hoped that if an attempt is made in this way during the coming season to raise funds, it will meet with a wide and hearty response. The subscriptions alone, minus this sum raised by entertainments, amount to $6,668.64.

The following table may be interesting as giving a comparison of the help received by the Society in different years:

	Subscriptions and Donations.		Benefits
	$ gold	$ m/n.	$ m/n.
1891..	119.08	6047.20	3576.04
1892..	102.52	7426.37	2477.10
1893..	100.00	6054.25	2880.00
1894..	65.00	7532.70	2023.66
1895..	55.04	5874.49	984.12
1896..	50.00	6668.64	1913.65

It became obvious during the year that some immediate step would have to be taken to meet a deficit announced by the Hon. Treasurer in the month of October as due to him of $78 gold and $1,800 paper, and the deficit was increasing. The Committee decided to ask a loan from the British Immigration Society, which was known to have funds in hand for purposes somewhat similar to those of the Benevolent Society. The loan has since then been generously granted free of interest, on condition of repayment on or before June 30th 1897, but as the money was not received till 15th January of this year, it is not, of course, noted in the Treasurer's Report for 1896. The Benevolent Society is, therefore, it will be seen, in very urgent need of the public assistance, to enable it, not only to carry on its good work, but also to meet this claim on its finances.

The Committee has the greater confidence in giving in its report in that it believes the work of the Society is now being more systematically done than at any previous time in its history. The great difficulty associated with almsgiving is the difficulty of determining which are, and which are not, deserving cases. The Committee, accordingly, has now employed an officer of the Salvation Army to make thorough investigation of all applications for relief. The officer attends daily at the British Consulate from 4.30 to 5 o'clock p.m., and has power to issue orders on the Salvation Army Refuge for a night's board and lodging, or to give other temporary relief to a limited amount, and find employment for those able to work. A report of the relief given is submitted at each meeting of the Committee. Subscribers might please bear in mind that gifts of wearing apparel are always acceptable at the British Consulate on behalf of the Society.

The Salvation Army Refuge is an admirable institution which the Committee has found of great use, as, by this means, it has been enabled in the most economical manner to give assistance to the destitute in a form best suited to their needs. It is obvious that the Refuge, as well as the nature of the work undertaken by the Salvation Army, afford to its officials ample means of meeting with, and judging of the claims of, that large class of people who subsist, deservingly or otherwise, on the public charity. The Committee ventures to hope that with this assistance at their disposal, in the manner above referred to, not only will a saving be effected through a more judicious application of the Society's funds, but that the public, also, should be readier to help when it has the assurance that its contributions are thus wisely expended.

A table is appended giving a summary of the relief granted during 1896 in the many forms in which, in different cases, charity is most appropriately bestowed. It will be seen that the largest number of the cases fall under the head of "Board and Lodging," which the Committee thinks is the best way in which help, where it is urgently needed, can be given.

The granting of loans has, also, during the past year been put upon a more satisfactory basis by requiring in each case an adequate security duly stated and signed in a legal form drawn up for the purpose.

Thanks, in conclusion, are due to the Press; to Mr. Bridgett for granting the use of the Consulate premises for meetings and as a centre for granting relief; to Mr. F. Carlisle who, as Hon. Treas., has rendered invaluable services to the Society; to the various persons who have organized or assisted in entertainments on behalf of the Society; to the Ladies' Branch, kindly carried on by Mrs. Thornton; and, finally,, to the subscribers who have hitherto helped us and, to whom, as well as to a still wider public, we again look for generous support.

The following members of Committe retire at this time:—Messrs. Carlisle, Ham, Humphreys, Mulhall. In place of these gentlemen, four others have to be appointed to serve on the Committee for the current year.

CHILIANS AND BRAZILIANS.

GIANT MANIFESTATION.

The first manifestation which took place in Santiago, Chile, on Sunday afternoon, in favour of the Brazilian people and press was a tremendous affair, and surpassed all expectation. Over 30,000 people took part in it, while the procession occupied several hours in marching past. Enthusiasm rose to an extraordinary pitch. Rafael Egana, during the course of a speech, stated that peace on the Southern American Continent would never be broken while Chile and Brazil stood together (!) This reveals the fact that Chilians are very much inclined to see a treaty signed between the two nations. A gala performance took place in the Municipal Theatre that evening. The theatre was crammed to excess. A few minutes before the curtain rose the Brazilian Minister made his appearance accompanied by Mr. Merla Vicuna and a crowd of Chilian admirers. President Errazuriz entered the state box shortly afterwards, and the orchestra played the Chilian and Brazilian anthems, which were greeted with frantic applause. A guard of honour presenting arms was drawn up opposite a column covered with Chilian and Brazilian flags and modern cannon. Speeches were made by the score. The only gentleman to speak in favour of the Argentine Republic amidst this furious display of Chilian affection for Brazil was Mr. Eulogio Altamirano, who eulogised Argentina. Nearly all the members of the Diplomatic Corps visited the President in his box, while H. E. left it to visit the Brazilian Minister. After the performance there were more speeches on the same topic: Chile and Brazil.

MONTEVIDEO.

(From our Monday Issue.)

A well known English estanciero just in from Treinta Tres gives sad report of estanciero business where the armies are passing. He says that they took twenty of his cattle, and ate only five, selling the rest to a local butcher at seven and a half pesos a head. He was not even allowed to take the hides off the five cattle killed by the troops. Accompanied by his peones he went to the butcher and retook the 15 cattle, telling him to apply to the Prefect for redress.

Lamas has ordered 8000 ponchos and uniforms for his men and intends passing winter in Cerro Largo, evidently imitating tactics of Cuban rebel-generals. Lamas was at his estancia the 7th, going south, but sent his main force northwards. Lamas was following Saraiva, who was after Muñiz. He says that it is a great mistake that Lamas is commanding officer of rebels, the commander is Saravia, who is a General while Lamas is only Colonel. This upsets all ideas prevalent in B. Aires, where you fancy that the ex-Argentine Major Lamas is leading the dance, but my informant is positive and speaks from personal observation. The rebel forces amounted in all to about five thousand men. Their horses were worn out and had the marks of well known estancias in San Jose and Colonia; they pursued Muñiz for three days after battle of Arbolito so closely that he had not even time to 'carnear', but Muñiz outmanœuvred Lamas and succeeded in joining the force of Gen. Muñoz. The troops kill cattle with the greatest waste, and as far as horses are concerned have carried off everything on four legs, including thoroughbred brood mares.

An English officer from the Basilisk tells me that war-vessels of that nationality will put their flags at half mast for the U.S.S Yantic's departure. No more Sunday breakfasts on board that vessel, with pork and beans, and Boston brown bread, no more buckwheat cakes cooked by O'Gorman and the Japanese squint-eyed 'chef' in the galley. The officers of the recently arrived Castine will do their best to fill the vacancies left by the Yantic. By the way I am informed that the officer of the Castine, who had a five weeks thirst, got seventeen pounds sterling for it from a resident Englishman whom he met in the plaza. Good bye Yantic, after this last cruise you will never be seen in foreign waters. One of the officers of the Castine has brought out the latest thing in Cinematographs. It consists of a small volume of stiff leaves of the size of half a cubic inch which when dexterously pressed between thumb and finger exhibits in a life like manner all the phases of the Corbett-Fitzgerald fight.

H. M. S. Satellite, Captain Allen, recently arrived from West Coast, leaves to-morrow for home. Captain Allen told us a dog story which won the STANDARD challenge for dog stories. He passed the afternoon admiring the Montevideo girls who passed in the street and says that nothing like them is to be seen on the West Coast either for physique or clothes. To-morrow H. M. S. Beagle, Captain Gamble, leaves for the South. He expects to call in at San Blas about the twelfth May, where he hopes to have some good sport and to hear the music of the pianos or organs with which was freighted the American ship which sank near San Blas thirty years ago, of which music Admiral Kennedy gave such an enthusiastic description in his book. I gave Captain Gamble a letter to the managers of the Mulhall estancia at San Blas.

To-day Lieutenant Coffin of the Yantic went to pay a parting visit to Captain Risso the much wounded Commander of the Artigas. He found Risso done up in bandages and smelling strongly of disinfectants but as merry as possible and chatting gaily with about twenty visitors of whom the majority were ladies. Capt. Risso offered many attentions to the officers of the Yantic at Nueva Palmira. When Coffin complimented him on his bravery he replied "regular, regular". He says that he knows he killed two of the aggressors, the two midshipmen who deserted, and thinks he killed five.

This afternoon I went to the police-station to see Rabecca, the would-be assassin of the President. He will not be seventeen till June. Dr. Felipone of the police, says that he presents all the signs of a neurotic subject, a degenerate with criminal instincts as described by Max Nordan and Lombroso. One of his eccentricities as elucidated by the police was that of taking four or five baths every day. This is considered by his family as a sure proof that he is mad. His father and elder brother are working in B. Aires; they and he are Socialists; the revolver which he used is completely unserviceable, all rusted and the mechanism out of order. He paid ninety cents for it. It is not true that he said "Don' kill me" (no me mate). When he was brought up stairs in the President's house. Mrs. Borda happened to come in, and seeing the President with a revolver in his hand and Rabecca held by the policeman, said to the President "don't kill the boy." H. E. then explained to her that it was the other way about-that the boy had tried to kill him. The President and Mrs. Borda both interrogated him, and his replies were most insolent and cynical, he said thee and thou to them. The local papers continue publishing columns of matter in regard to the affair, what his mother, aunts and cousins say; it is a mistake, just like publishing details of suicides, because such publicity will excite other weak minded youths to go and do likewise, in order to gain notoriety. The President should forbid all allusions to the affair in the daily press. The same day as the attempt on the life of the President, ex-President Herrera received an anonymous letter, saying that an attempt would also be made on his life.

THE MARRIAGE OF MISS PEACOCK OF RIO SEGUNDO.

A wedding particularly interesting to the residents of Rio Segundo took place at the Catholic Church on Wednesday evening last., the 21st inst., when Miss Paulina E. Peacock, the charming and pretty daughter of Mr. Thomas Peacock, the much esteemed and popular manager of the Rio Segundo Brewery, was led to the altar by Mr. W. O. Mullane, the Brewery's accountant.

The ceremony was performed at half-past eight o'clock, by the Rev. M Cabrera, uncle of the bride, and although a quiet one, yet at the same time it was exceedingly pretty. The church was brilliantly lit up for the occasion, and had a pleasing effect as the procession passed up to the altar.

The bride was given away by her father, and looked charmingly sweet and pretty, beautifully attired in a costly dress of white satin, richly trimmed with white lace, and wore besides the orthodox orange blossom and bridal veil. The train was most gracefully carried by little Miss Maria Ponti, who acted a delightful little page, tastefully dressed in pale blue and white.

After the ceremony a reception took place at the residence of the bride's father, where a large assemblage of friends admired the many and costly presents.

Later on in the evening the newly-wedded pair left for Buenos Ayres to spend the honey-moon, amidst showers of rice and the hearty congratulations and good wishes of a large crowd of friends, who assembled at the station to see the young couple take their departure.

LOCUSTS IN PARAGUAY.

From the ("Uruguay News")

The locusts have appeared in Paraguay. Writing from Caazapa, a central province of that Republic, a correspondent says, "A flight of locusts passed across the railway workshops at Sapucay on the 16th; they were flying in a north-easterly direction. On the 18th they were flying with the wind, took two hours to pass, and extended about a mile and a half across the camp". As far as we can hear, they have done very little damage, not even depositing their eggs.

It is curious how a visitation of locusts like this brings out the characteristic national traits. On an English colony the majority of men and women may be seen working against the pests, when everything appears utterly hopeless, and attempting with somewhat forcible language, to make everyone else do likewise. In Italian colonies the chacareros roll on the ground crying aloud and pulling out their hair in handfulls, while they curse their saints and revile their Maker, till they are quite exhausted.

Baron Hirsch's Hebrews turned out in long overcoats, caps with earlaps and a cat-o' nine-tails class of whip. They all proceeded in line and every now and again a wail would rise from their ranks calling on Jehovah to smite the locusts. But the following account of a Paraguayan battling with the pests is perhaps the most strange of all. We give it in our correspondent's own words:—

"As I first saw him he was sitting on his fence smoking a cigar and watching the locusts eat his rice crop (only about 50 lines), his wife and boys were absent in the camp, and accordingly he awaited their return. He smiled as I rode up, and waving his hand towards the chacra, said: 'Caramba patron! If I had as many cattle as I have langostas, I should be a rich man',"

Zeus—no connection with the Olympian firm so well known a few thousand years ago—has arrived here from Rio Cuarto: he is accused of having robbed the Adhémar linen—warehouse of $2000.

GROWING CROPS AND SPRING SOWING IN GREAT BRITAIN.

(From our own Correspondent).

London, March 19.

The winter crop is for the most part guppy in plant and unhealthy, having suffered from the almost continuous water-logged condition of the soil, as rainy weather has prevailed, with hardly one week of intermission, ever since the crop was sown in the autumn. Since the end of February there has been only one occasion of rain holding off for two clear days and nights in most parts of the country, and there was no chance of sowing in February, except on light soils. Thus all idea of increasing the wheat crop had to be given up. Spring corn has been hurried in by small instalments whenever there was a day free from rain, but only on the light soil to any considerable extent, heavy land being still unsown, as a rule. Thus the completion of sowing must be very late, and this will be very disadvantageous, especially for barley, which needs to be sown early to give it a fair chance of producing grain of good quality. For pastoral farmers the circumstances are favourable, as the pastures and meadows are thickly covered with grass and feed is now plentiful, while there is the promise of a good hay crop. The lambing season has proved a fairly satisfactory one, so far, and it is nearly over in most parts of England. The proportion of twins is smaller than usual; but both ewes and lambs are generally healthy, and the losses have been comparatively few. Estimates of the potato and hay crops of 1896 have been isssued by the Board of Agriculture for Great Britain only, as follows:—

	Tons (of 2240 lbs.)		Tons per acre
	1896	1895	1896	1895	Avge 86-95
Potatoes—	—	—	—	—	—
England....	2,539,000	2,519,000	6.35	6.75	6.00
Wales.....	218,000	227,000	6.45	6.74	5.71
Scotland...	805,000	847,000	6.20	6.30	5.70
Gt. Britain.	3,562,000	3,593,000	6.32	6.64	5.91
			Cuts (112 lbs) per acre
Hay from clover seed—
Gt. Britain.	2,624,000	3,117,000	24.16	27.06	28.10
Hay from permanent grass—
Gt. Britain.	4,060,000	4,551,000	17.51	19.16	23.39

The hay crop, in both countries, was even worse in 1896 than in 1895.

THEATRES AND AMUSEMENTS.

Sra. Panizza-Stinco takes her benefit at the Odeon to-night, the programme consisting of "La Boheme" and the fourth act act of "Gioconda." During the short time that Sra. Stinco as been here, she has thoroughly endeared herself to the music loving portion of the community by her excellent performance in "Aida", "Africana", "Clara", "Gioconda", "La Boheme" and other operas, and has proved herself to be an artiste of the very first class. Her benefit to-night should be most successful.

Sr. H. A. Bonhardt, Prize Medallist of the Zurich Conservatory will give a grand concert to-morrow night in the Operai Italiani, on which occasion he will be assisted by the well known professrs E. Galvani, José Bonfiglioli, Torcuato Marenco and S. Calzado. In the programme are excerpts from the works of Chopin, Schumann, Saint-Saens, Liszt, and Bonhardt. The concert will begin at 8 o'clock.

The latest advices from home report Fregoli's success as something bordering on the marvellous. He is performing at the Alhambra, one of the largest theatres in London, and the house is crowded every night. Notwithstanding he has been appearing for more than two months, opimons are still divided as to whether he is one individual, or whether he has assistance. Bets are even made on it, and people cannot be satisfied. Residents here will remember his extraordinary success at the old National Theatre and the San Martin two years since, and will be pleased to know that he has been re-engaged by Sr. Ghiglione to appear at the San Martin in the early part of June. He has added considerably to his repertoire, and his season here will undoubtedly be a grand success.

The "Luckmann Memorial Concert" will take place in Prince George's Hall on Monday next, the 3rd proximo. The Buenos Aires Choral Union have taken great pains to render this concert thoroughly worthy of the object for which it is given, and the programme consists of well selected music. The soloists will be Mrs. Russell Gregg, Miss Ellen Browne, Mr. E. Leslie Wilson and Mr. F. Chaussard. The instrumental music will be a real treat for musical amateurs, consisting, as it does, of a quintette formed by Miss Dora Hartz (piano), Miss McLean (harp), Sr. Cattelani (violin), Sr. Nietuhr (viola), and Sr. Marechal (violincello). Such a combination is worth all the money charged for the tickets, three dollars, and the hall should be crammed.

"La Tienta," the new piece at the Comedia, is a great success, and affords Felix Mesa a great opportunity for the display of his capabilities as a comedian. As Manolito, he fairly revels in the part and the applause is continuous. The piece wil be given again to-night. Also, will be revived "La Verbena de la Paloma", which will be more than usually interesting from the fact that Sra. Galé will repeat her excellent representation of Tia Antonia.

To morrow they will produce "El Si Natural", a piece that has met with extraordinary success in Madrid.

LA PLATA.

(From our own correspondent.)

April, 26th

Government has resolved to submit the recent resolutions denying the Western Railway the right to the property of the materials of the line, between La Plata station and Calles Nº 1 and 89, to arbitration.

A theatrical performance for the benefit of the Press Association will take place next Thursday.

The Department of Engineers to-day took over the management of the Drainage Works in Cuenca de Ajó in the South of the Province.

The classes of Chemistry in the new University were opened to-day. The other classes will open on the 1st of next month.

Mr. Victor Panthon one of the founders of this city died here to-day. His funeral will take place to-morrow.

The Committee of the Chamber of Deputies appointed to report on the elections advices their sanction, granting the 5th and 6th section 11, and 10 Deputies respectively and the Radical Party, 4 Deputies.

A duel between two Deputies of the National fraction is on the tapis. It appears that both gentleman have decided to settle a dispute, with reference to the sanctioning of the elections, on the field.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The week opened yesterday as brisk as a colony of beehives. The Gold Eagle astonished both his friends and his enemies by falling down in a dead faint, nobody could tell why or wherefore. The weather was of the three B's order—bright, bracing and breezy. The tremendously fraternal outburst between Brazil and Chile, of which we give particulars in another column, set the heads of wiseacres and "gobemouches" wagging. The news from Athens was that the Greeks have got over their deep dejection and have resolved to fight to the bitter end, in the hope that Servia and Bulgaria will join them. More serious for the peace of Europe than the war now raging is a rumour of a secret agreement between Russia and Turkey by which the former gets Crete. The wily Bear denies the soft impeachment: but his Bruinship has always been remarkable for hard swearing when it suits him. If he tries on the little game, he will have to deal with the British Lion. Meanwhile the latter is leading the way in an effort to mediate to bring about peace between the Greek and Turk.

The very old story! The honorable Deputies to Congress were summoned yesterday to a preliminary sitting, but didn't turn up. The Senators are summoned for to-day, but the betting is 90 to 1 that they will not put in an appearance either. New men are sorely wanted, as our colleague La Nacion very truly says.

The Greek residents here appeal to all Argentines and foreigners here who sympathise with the Greek cause to help them to establish a Greek "Centro." Those who wish to join it can apply at 337 Rivadavia, or 1241 Alsina.

The arrangements in regard to the forthcoming Bazaar in connection with St. Annrew's Scotch church, are very nearly complete. Altough termed a "Bazaar" it will not be on anything like the grand scale of the Bazaar held last year in Prince George's Hall, being more for the purpose of selling the surplus of the goods so generously handed to the Committee. It will take place in the hall at the back of the Church, on or about June 8th,

The programme of the St. Andrew's Debating Society, for the ensuing season is somewhat ambitious, but as there is plenty of good, sound material to work upon, it will doubtless be carried through in first class style, and be productive of much intellectual amusement to the members. The Society amongst other things, will give a series of readings from Shakespeare, Dickens, and other well-known writers. The first of these will take place on Friday next the 30th inst. in the hall attached to the Scotch Church. The subject is "Shakespeare's Julius Cæsar" and apart from the novelty, the reading should attract a large audience.

Holy Moses! The latest rumour is of an alliance between Bolivia and Chile "for all emergencies." What's up? "No importa". Argentina looks with supreme indifference on the intrigues of the Greeks of South America.

There was no further news about the B. O. White Rose kick-up yesterday; and we suspect that it is fizzling fast. However, it all depends on what General Tajes has been able to do here.

We have received a copy of the testimonials of Mr. A. Macpherson, the new head master of the Scotch School, who has been selected by Dr. Laurie, Professor of Education in Edinburgh University. Mr. Macpherson is a Master of Arts of St. Andrew's Univsrsity, where after being first in several of his classes he graduated with honours both in classics and philosophy. Mr. Macpherson is a young man but an experienced teacher, and the head master of the Normal School in Edinburgh speaks of his ability as a teacher in the highest terms. We believe that not only the Scotch School but the British community are to be congratulated on this addition to our educated men. It is a pleasure to note that the Committee of the Scotch School are doing so much to keep the oldest institution of the kind, in the front rank of modern schools. Mr. Macpherson will enter on his duties in May, and until he arrives the School will be under the care of Mr. A. E. Blanchard. B.A.

We hear that Mr. H. C. Thompson, to whom the Committee of the Jubilee Festivities have entrusted the task of producing the Opera "Pinafore", to be given as a gala performance upon the evening of the anniversary, has succeeded in obtaining the cooperation of Mr. T. V. M. Knox and Mr. Plews to assist him in his onerous labours. The help which these two gentlemen, both so favourably known on the Amateur stage, will afford will be invaluable, and we may confidently look forward to a most excellent exposition of this well-known opera. We consider most happy the choice of this piece, on account of its essentially British character, and would suggest to Mr. Thompson that he obtain if possible the cooperation of the British Squadron. Some real British tars on the stage would give a 'cachet' to the performance such as has never yet been seen in Buenos Aires.

In further reference to the Barker Memorial School, we understand that the Committee have appointed Mr. R. Rudd second master, and have arranged with him to open a boarding house in connection with the school. Mr. and Mrs. Rudd were for several years connected with the English High School and have great experience in the care of boarders. The opening of this department, in connection with the Barker Memorial School, offers a splendid opportunity for boys whose parents wish them to be well trained, in every way, without leaving the country. We are requested to state that Mr. Rudd will be prepared to receive boarders on and after the 1st of May.

A little boy, 4 years old, was yesterday run over by a carriage and had his arm broken. Such accidents are becoming alarmingly frequent. The scene was the corner of Piedad and Esmeralda; presumably then the child was crossing, if so the deduction to be drawn is that the driver was going too fast to pull up in time. In the crowded centre no vehicle should be allowed to cross a "boca-calle" except at a slow trot. Dr. Beazley to the rescue of the public!

An Englishman named William Forrester has sought assistance at the British Hospital for a nasty wouud in his head which, according to him, had been inflicted by a bullet. Arthur Testa, who confesses to having caused the mischief, says however, that the gash was inflicted by a walking-stick.

Nobody on this "airth" can beat Uncle Sam and his son Jonathan at first-chop advertizing with a dash of fun in it. Nothing is sacred for either the old gentleman or his promising offspring not even coffins and hearses; and we recommend the following sample of an advertizement to our friends Deck, Audino and Ibarne, especially the latter, who, on All Fools Day thought he had some one of the STANDARD staff booked for a trip to the Recoleta. During a cholera scare in California, the following appeared in a paper there:—

"Cholera: Cholera! Cholera:
When the Cholera comes prices will be high
Buy your Coffins early, and Avoid the rush
Seize the opportunity and get a good article, and one that will suit you.
The undersigood has the finest stock of coffins ever offered for sale in this town."

In its issue of yesterday our esteemed contemporary La Nacion acknowledges what he have over and over again written since the year 1886, viz, that there is a great scarcity of really sound, energetic and far-seeing statesmen and public men generally in this country. This is a painful fact. The new generation of public men are not up to the mark, and, as our colleague very justly remarks, too many of them seek public posts, not, as their fathers and grandfathers did, for the honour of serving their country, but for the emolument. Too true, alas! There are a few honourable exceptions, but very few.

Young Poet—"You read my little poem Mr. Sheerce?" Editor—Yes. It was quite pathetic. It excited considerable comment in the office. The boy who attends to such matters informs me that it was the first poem he ever burned which was so full of tears as to put the fire out".

He—I have your mother's consent, and now—

She—It can never be, Sir. I highly respect you, and will be a sister to you, but—

He—Hold on—you will be a daughter to me. I am going to marry your mother.

A French statistician has recently been investigating the distance travelled by the eye in reading printed matter. He calculates that one million letters of the ordinary type used in newspapers, placed in close juxtaposition, extend over 1500 metres, somewhat less than a mile. But, according to his reckoning, there is not more than 1100 yards of reading matter in the average issue of a Parisian daily. Within the cover of the familiar yellow-backed novel will, as a rule, be found double that amount, and in order to cover the ground which is represented by all of M. Zola's works, the eye would have to perform a journey of more than thirty miles. An average man, living for the average period of a human life, may be calculated to get through about 2500 miles of reading before his task is done.

We remind ourEnglish-speaking readers of the General Meeting of the British and Americant Benevolent Society, to be held this afternoon at 3 p.m. at the British Consulate. Of all the English charitable institutions in this city, this Society is second to none in the true, genuine charity it quietly does, and it is a vast pity, and by no means creditable to the community, that it is not more liberally supported. It is indeed sad that the committee, in their Report, should be forced to tell our community that the present state of the Society's funds is "lamentable". This state of things should not be allowed to continue.

The meeting of the Danish Society on Saturday night was a great success, and the Hall was filled with the venerable King Christian's subjects. The Report and Balance-sheet were approved, and a warm vote of thanks to the Committee was passed., Mr. Arnold Moen was unanimously elected President of the Committee; Mr. Rasmussen was re-elected Vice President, and Messrs Harsten and Krieger as "vocales."

We have to thank our staunch and newsy friend Mr. Charles Mackern for late London papers to April 3rd—Times, People, Sketch, Black and White etc. In three weeks more the illustrated papers with sketches of the recent desperate fighting in Thessaly will be here. Talking of the war, of which the island of Crete was the "fons et origo," here is a pretty legend from that truly unfortunate isle:—"God, after having created the world, took in His robe, flowers and stones—the flowers representing the happiness of the world, its joys and its pleasures; the stones, on the other hand, representing its sorrows, its misfortunes, its calamities. In passing over the land God dropped everywhere flowers, and stones in almost equal proportions; consequently the nations of the earth find in this life, as a rule, an equal amount of sorrow and happiness. But when God passed over Crete all the heavy stones dropped on to the island through a hole in His robe, and God, troubled at this, forgot to throw down any flowers, with the result that Crete is doomed to be for ever unhappy."

The chances of little Lady Duff, the Duke of Fife's daughter, ever wearing the crown of Great Britain are getting less every year, thanks to Bonnie Princess May, Duchess of York, who, as we announced in our Weekly Edition yesterday, on Sunday presented her husband and the nation with a Princess. Every additional child she has will make Bonnie May more popular with her future subjects, for making the succession to the throne in the direct line more secure; and it must not be forgotten that our late much lamented colleague, Mr Michael Dinneen, of the Southern Cross immortalized in verse the historical fact that "THE STANDARD made the match". So it did.

We have a letter for Mr. James Brennan.

We are requested to call attention to the notice from the St. John's Ambulance Association in another column.

We have to thank our good friends Messrs Galli Bros. for Weekly Times, Illustrated London News and Daily News of April 3rd.

The I. L. N. to hand has a good picture of the race between the Queen and a beggar, which is thus described:—"When driving out at Nice the other day the Queen was much amused at the action of an old beggar on the road near Villefranche. This old mendicant sits by the roadside in a small vehicle drawn by two dogs, and Her Majesty never passes the old man without making him a gift of money. On this occasion, when the Royal carriage was returning from Saint Jean, the beggarman, doubtless satisfied with his day's takings, was starting home for Nice. The idea struck him that he would race the Queen's carriage, and he did so. For some distance the dogs had the better of the race, and the event (says the "Pall Mall Gazette") appeared to give much amusement to Her Majesty, who rewarded the beggar with an extra donation."

We find the following items in our Chilian exchanges to hand yesterday:—"On Sunday afternoon, the Rev. H. E. Wetherall, chaplain and pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, left for Europe, via the Cordillera, on a year's leave. At Montevideo he will join one of the steamers of the Italian Line, "La Veloce," for Genoa, from which he will proceed overland, anticipating to be in England in about three weeks from the Plate. In our Saturday's Supplement we intend to reproduce a photograph of the reverend gentleman. Lieut-Colonel J. Anderson, a retired British officer, who has been several years in this country, principally residing at Los Andes, died in the German Hospital here, on Friday last, of cancer of the tongue. The funeral took place in the Protestant cemetery on Sunday morning."

Another sad Lottery story, told by our breezy contemporary the Uruguay News:—"La Razon reports that the last fifty thousand "grande" was won by a "dependiente" of the Bazaar Druillet here, who dreamt the number and bought the whole ticket. This reminds us that a member of our staff dreamt the winning number of the last "grande," and proceeded to spend every cent he had on the purchase of the ticket, with the cheering result that he won absolutely nothing.

	Gold Premium
FIRST RING.....	197.80
SECOND RING.....	198.00

There was a grand wake-up about the market to-day. With a blaze of banners, crash of trumpets, and roll of drums, the bears fell on and carried all before them—"tandem triumphantes." It was not a grim, set attack; the quotations did not recede slowly and grudgingly. No, and there was nothing thick or heavy about it at all. It was a surprise onslaught which carried the lines like chaff before an October gale. But if an earthquake had shaken the Bolsa, the astonishment could not have been more profound; the bulls had stalked into the ring under the firm impression that the news from Europe, menacing complications in the Oriental question, would send gold soaring, and when they found the reverse, the market crumbling, and rates collapsing, and the whole machine unhinged, they gaped, stared like owls, and subsided. That kind of thing was never meant to be understood, at all events they have given up trying. And it was not as if they had depended on the European news alone, there were sundry other items of a bullish hue, as they imagined, to help on, such as the hard up state of the Executive, flatness of exchange, solidity of the commercial crisis etc. But it was no use. The cash gold came on as if pumped from a reservoir, in a flood, and by the time the ½ million dollars done for cash had been chalked up, the price had straightened out and all but given way entirely. We may add that all the Bolsa oracles have given up business and gone into bankruptcy. Nobody can explain the situation. The Metternichs are just as puzzled as the "oi polloi," and the only thing tangible is that the market is breaking, the tub's fundment collapsing, the glorious eagle depressed and limp.

A good deal of capital is being made out of the fact that the Government is paying its internal obligations in Treasury Bills, as if there were something new and blood-curdling in such a course, whereas it dates from time immemorial, and from a business point of view has nothing objectionable about it. It would have been a very different thing if the bills had been protested or renewals enforced, but the creditors are only too pleased to accept payment in this kind, why, therefore, the outcry? The very people interested say nothing, but there is always some Mr. John officious to cry "stinking fish." T'was ever thus.

If there is anything unsavoury about the situation it is not in the Casa Rosada for a certainty. The market will soon be able to see for itself that Dr. Escalante is the right man in the right place, and that, with a very difficult situation to grapple and work on. We are unable to say yet what his picture of the financial outlook will reflect, but we have it from a good source that it will astonish the local market and public, as well as that section of the old world interested in things Argentine. He will be able to unroll to Congress his plan, and that at a very early opportunity, whilst the date at which Congress can handle the estimates will be a sharp reproof for his predecessors and a crisp reminder for his successors. Organization is the Minister's forte; he attaches the very highest importance to it, and thinks very properly that it is indispensable to the winning of a battle or kneading of budgets. It would not be reasonable or logical to attribute the fall in gold to this keen administration and marked tact, but it is easy to see that the market takes a very different view now of the Minister from the opinion it had formed when he took office; and the balance is on the right side.

Despite all the efforts of the bulls, the business in gold at the first hour was marked by a very sharp sink in prices, which tumbled 4 points more or less for cash and end of month, and remained over in a fainting condition. For the best part of the hour the fall was measured, but towards the close it took the shape of a panic almost, the sellers pounding away and buyers getting scarcer as the drop took bolder shape. Opening at 301 ¼ the price never saw that altitude again, dropping and wheeling, rallying and reacting till it broke the 300 when, it went in a gasp almost to 297.80, at which it closed with a bare short two points for May. After the hour the collapse continued, and only stopped with the price at 297 sellers both for cash and end of month. In stocks Catalinas were buoyant, and most of the Provincial Cedula series were dealt in, though not to any extent. The market is dull for all values except Catalinas.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

The Commission appointed for the Industrial Exhibition next year met to-day in the office of the Minister of the Interior under the Presidency of Dr. Quirno Costa. It was resolved that the Commission should comprise the following gentlemen: President, Dr. Quirno Costa; 1st Vice-President, Vicente Casares; 2nd ditto, Juan Videla; Treasurer, Otto Bemberg; Vocales, Messrs. Ernesto Tornquist, Lix Klett, Engineer Francisco Carlos Segui, Joselin Huergo, Meliton Pamelo, Eduardo Zimmermann, Dr. Toledo, Dr. B. Nogues, Dr. Isaac Chevarria, Gismondi, Baibiene, Alejandro Astoul, Merlo Dellacha; Secretary, Sr. Williams. A committee of the following gentlemen was also appointed to report as to what site would be suitable to erect the building of the Exhibition: Messrs. Segui, Videla and Joselin Huergo.

As a sequence to the, above we publish the letter of Dr. Dominguez to Lord Rothschild, in which the Minister announces the form in which the resumption of "full payment" has been arranged:—

"Legation of the Argentine Republic,
"16, Kensington Palace Gardens,
"London, March 29, 1897.

"My Lord—I have the honour to inform you, as President of the Committee which was formed to negotiate with the Government of the Argentine Republic as to the method of payment of the interest on its External Debt, that, the financial and economical situation of the country having improved and the Argentine Government being desirous that the bondholders should participate in this improvement, the President of the Republic in General Council of Ministers has just decreed that the full payment of the interest on the 14 loans mentioned in the agreement of July 3, 1893, should be resumed one year before the time stipulated in the said agreement, and that the sinking fund on these loans shall commence on January 12, 1901, as was arranged.

"By a telegram I have received from the Minister of Finance I was advised that the agreement of July 3, 1893, is modified in the following form:—(1) The payment of the coupons falling due up to July 12, 1897, inclusive, will continue to be made as hitherto. (2) From July 12, 1897, up to July 12, 1898, inclusive, there will be remitted to the Bank of England the full amount of the coupons on the 14 loans, to be distributed to the bondholders in the manner arranged by the committee with them. (3) From July 12 1898, to July 12, 1901, inclusive, the Argentine Government will begin to remit direct again to the respective agents of the said 14 loans the full amount of the coupons. (4) From January 12, 1901, the full service of interest and sinking fund on the 14 loans will be resumed.

"Requesting you to kindly communicate to the parties concerned this decision of the Government, which I have no doubt will be received with satisfaction by the bondholders. I have the honour to repeat the expression of my greatest respect, etc.

"(Signed) Luis L. Dominguez".

Treating of the foreign share market, one of our exchanges received by the mail says:—The main interest in the Foreign market has been directed to Argentine securities, on account of the announcement that full payment of the interest on the various loans is to be resumed from July next instead of July 1898, as previously arranged. This decision, though it has been before the Argentine Congress for some time, was officially communicated this week, and has caused quite a rush of speculation in argentine securities. It is believed, however, that the public have not had much hand in it, and they will be wise not to buy at top prices, for though the arrangement is in every way a desirable one, it is difficult to see how, under the present circumstances of Argentine finance, it can be very long maintained, and there is at least a possibility that the proposal is only the prelude to some further scheme of conversion or borrowing. Argentine Provincial loans have followed the advance of the National bonds to some extent.

The Government, it is stated, has received most favourable offers for construction of the Central Station, so favourable indeed that it is only a question of days for the signing of the contract. The offers are of course from railway circles, and the cost will be less than estimated by the Engineers' Department. The Ministers of course are all very busy with their ways and means and reports for the message, but Dr Quirno Costa is determined to finish off this Station business out of hand, and thus expedite the way to starting work. The pity is that such a simple question was not settled long ago.

There is great stir and great things are brewing in railway quarters. As soon as Mr. Barrow arrives he will take over the Ensenada railway, at least so it is reported, which will then become part and parcel of the Great Southern, with terminus in Plaza Constitucion. The action of the Government in forcing the companies to abandon the entry to the Central has forced the business, and in all probability all the stretch to Boca will be suppressed, so that the residents along the line will have to make their way in via the South Plaza, at least until such time as the new Central Station is built. The colossus is now becoming an octopus; its tentacles are drawing everything within reach into a capacious maw, and before the new century is very old it will be a wonderful, an enormous enterprise. People are beginning to understand now the reason for the extensive purchases of land in this capital, the buying up of the Demarchi island, La Platense workshops, etc. The feeder and drainer of an enormous and thickly populated country, it must naturally provide means of ingress and outlet in proportion, and that with a view to the future as well as the present. If people wish to gauge the prospects of the Plate, they need only follow the lines marked out by the Great Southern, the Board of which, well skilled in all that is Argentine, calm of judgment and steady in purpose, is still drawing on the future so fearlessly and boldly.

There is a machine for putting coffee up in packages, run in the great coffee establishment of Arbuckle Bros., New York, that puts up ready for sale by the retail trade 30,000 two pound packages of coffee a day. This machine with a few attendants does the work of 200 human beings.

Messrs Galloway Scheidler and Co's Textile Report, dated 1st April 1897, says:—"Our market appears to be oscillating week by week from one stage of dullness to another. An improvement which shows itself one week is counteracted by some adverse influence the next. No doubt, the European political complications, together with the plague and famine in India are quite sufficient to account for the present depression, and as supplies in most foreign markets are running down, the long looked for expansion of demand cannot surely be far off. The experience of the week is anything but satisfactory. Japan, China and the Indian markets have all sent orders which have proved workable, but as the cost of production has increased and manufacturers have not been able to obtain higher prices, the business done has shown a loss. It would appear that looms are again running empty, and manufacturers are competing for the little business which comes to the market. We cannot report any improvement in prints. South America is doing a little more, but demand continues below the average."

Quite a number of friends have arrived back in the Magdalena so that there will be welcoming in English circles for some days: Mr. Cox of the New Zealand Land Mortgage Co. Mr. John Aungier, veteran broker, Mr. Norman Leach, estanciero and sugar planter of Salta, Mr. Taylor, Mr. Duncan, Mr. E. B. Whish, estanciero of Cañada de Gomez, etc. The full list will be found in another column.

The reaction after the sharp drop of the morning was not long in showing, as the moment the bell rang in the second hour the price began to rise and kept at it till 298¼ was done, when it fell off again to close at 298, ditto for end of month and 2 points higher for May, for which date there was unusual movement. After the hour the bulls succeeded in putting the price up to 299, though eventually it reacted again to close at 298, buyers. In stocks Catalinas were a trifle weaker, due to the bears laying stress on the fact that when the Southern Railway takes over the Ensenada line there will be no $20,000 gold from transmission of cargo. Some National F's were done at 85½, everything else being very dull.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the second ring:—

Dornbusch's under date April 2nd summarises the position and prospects of wheat as follows:—"The fears of scarcity in the early half of 1897 seem to have been the main reason for the copious contract making of last Autumn, and as usual whether in buying or in refraining from buying; the trade acted on misguided impulse and became possessed of more wheat than can be conveniently dealt with under present conditions. Actual scarcity of wheat has not been felt all through the campaign, apprehension of what might occur more than comprehension of the real position drove prices too far and produced the inevitable reaction which has run without check since the close of 1896. The trade in Europe, misled by reiterated statements of shortage in the United States, was carried by the stream of speculation too far from land, and now that the mischief is done some American journals say that there was no real cause of alarm in respect of transatlantic supplies. The Daily Market Record, Minneapolis, of 19th inst., maintains. "That there are always some very hazy ideas in the public mind respecting the true situation of supply and demand, and these obscure ideas too often control the multitude in methods. There was never on the last wheat crop the slightest reason to fear that supplies would be exhausted before another crop could be harvested. Leaving out minor contributors, enough wheat remained in America and Europe to meet demand."

GENERAL
The Spanish mail boat Antonio Lopez collided with the Italian barque Agostino Giuseppe while in Montevideo. The damage done to her is estimated at $1500 gold. The Agostino Giuseppe was in that port at the time waiting for orders to continue her voyage to Falmouth, f.o., with a complete cargo of ashes, which she loaded in Paysandu four or five days ago. This barque is a vessel of 540 tons register. Her hull is made of wood, and she was built in 1876. The captain and an Insurance expert visited the vessel today.
The French mail boat Bresil, from Bordeaux and intermediate ports, left Rio Janeiro for La Plata at 10 a.m. on the 24th inst.

Mr. Justice Barnes gave judgment in the claim of the steamship Wennington Hall for salvage services rendered to the steamship Langton Grange in the South Pacific in December and January. The Langton Grange, of a value (including cargo and freight) of £164,500, lost three blades of her propeller, and was towed by the Wennington Hall from the vicinity of Cape Horn to Montevideo, 1600 miles. His Lordship awarded £8000 salvage—£6,600 to the owners. £500 to the master, and £900 to the crew of the Wennington Hall.
The new White Star ss Oceanic will be a very welcome addition to the British Admiralty list of auxiliary cruisers, as of the large twin screw ocean steamers of 20 knots or over, sea speed, that would be used for auxiliary cruisers in case of war, British companies own four, American four, and German four. Included among the German four, are the two new North German Lloyd liners that are larger, and designed to be faster than the famous Cunarders, Campania and Lucania, and they are expected to improve considerably on the best passages of the American liners on the Southampton—New York route. It is stated that the American company have already in hand the plans for three new steamers that will equal the Oceanic in size. The principal question remaining to be decided, is whether they shall have a speed of about a knot more than the German steamers, or somewhat in excess of that of the Oceanic.
